GIANT ELEPHANT EAR

Alocasia

SUN LEVEL

- Dappled Shade-Partial Sun

CARE TIPS

- Keep soil moist at all times.
- Prefers acid soil, will benefit from periodic application of plant food for acid-loving plants (such as Miracid or Hollytone)

WHY WE LOVE IT

The elephant ear's giant bright green leaves are a bold statement in a shaded space. Underplanted with coleus or other shade-loving annuals, it will grow quickly in the summer heat.

Energize a shaded terrace or place in the garden among the shade plants for a pop for drama. These plants are pre-grown to a large size in south Florida for instant gratification!

DIY PLANT PURCHASE

- Small 3–4'h, in 10" pot $50.00
- Medium 5–5.5'h, in 14" pot $150.00

**PLANTED PREMIUM PURCHASE

- Small 3–4'h planted in 18" pot $150.00
- Medium 5–5.5'h, planted in 20" pot $350.00

**Premium option is planted in a decorative pot & underplanted with assorted greens and color coordinated flowering annuals. The plant is paired with an appropriately scaled round container in black, white, or grey.

PATIO PALM

SUN LEVEL

- Sun/Partial Sun

CARE TIPS

- Keep soil moist at all times.
- Prefers acid soil, will benefit from periodic application of plant food for acid-loving plants (such as Miracid or Hollytone)

WHY WE LOVE IT

The areca palm is a classic summer look. Its sturdy and fast growing fronds are easy to care for and pair beautifully with clusters of bright flowering annuals.

Try clustering it with pots of hibiscus to create a lush tropical terrace vignette.

Unlike palms that we use indoors, these plants are sun-grown and ready to go outside for the summer!

SUCCULENT BOWL

SUN LEVEL

- Partial to Full Sun

CARE TIPS

- Succulents prefer to go rather dry in between waterings

WHY WE LOVE IT

Grown in a rainbow of colors, shapes, and sizes, succulents are fun to combine in to eye-catching arrangements. They are also easy to care for and really say 'summer'.

Bowls are available in 2 sizes (in a choice of 3 colors), both pre-planted and ready to display on a bright table or patio.

No two bowls are the same, but each one is bursting with interesting textures and color.

PLANTED BOWLS

- Tabletop bowl, planted in 16"x8" pot $125.00
- Deck bowl, planted in 20"x10" pot $200.00

**Planted in a decorative bowl with stone topdressing (Bowls are available in white, black, or grey)
